

30 July 2025

Dear Cian,

Thank you for meeting with me on Wednesday 23 July in order to expand on your email to Eileen Healy, Deloitte Ireland LLP where you made a report in terms of the Queen's University Belfast, Whistleblowing Policy.

As stated at the meeting, I have been nominated as Designated Officer in terms of the procedure. My role is to establish if there are grounds for a formal investigation.

I have considered the information you provided, spoken with relevant colleagues and have had an independent file review of the relevant University records undertaken. I have concluded there no grounds for an investigation.

It is fully accepted that you have disabilities, and the University has policies & processes to support students such as yourself who require support. It is clear that the University has fully and properly utilised these policies both to try and support you but also to manage challenging behaviours which you have exhibited from time-to-time that impact on staff and other students.

I have concluded that the University staff who engaged with you from initial contact in September 2024 to now, have acted professionally and with commitment aligned to the University values. I also appreciate that you do not agree that this is the case, however, there is no evidence to substantiate your claims of being treated differently, without due care and attention and without respect and appropriate flexibility to recognise your disabilities.

If you are unhappy with how your disclosure has been managed, please put those concerns in writing for the attention of the Chair of Audit & Risk Committee by email to sce@qub.ac.uk or by letter to The Chancellery, Queen's University Belfast, University Road, Belfast BT7 1NN. In addition, as you have been previously advised, if you believe there has been maladministration in the processing of your case you may submit a complaint to the Office of the Northern Ireland Public Services Ombudsman within six months of the date of this letter. Details are on their website at <https://www.nipso.org.uk/>

Yours sincerely,

Alistair Finlay
Chief People Officer
